WHAT A BEAUTIFUL WORLD THIS WOULD BE.

(Written by RAYMOND A. BROWN.)

Words by ANDREW B. STERLING.

Music by HARRY VON TILZER.

Tempo di Valse.

On an old rustic stile down the lane, Sat a boy and a
At her feet by the old rustic stile, There the boy told his dear little girl, When she smiled he felt glad, when she frowned he grew story of love, To the dear little girl, with his heart in a sad, And he whispered: "My heart's in a whirl" Without whirl, While the stars slyly peeped from above, Soft and Copyright, 1903, by Harry Von Tilzer Music Pub. Co. 37 W. 28th St., N.Y.

All rights reserved.
Chicago Office 67 Clark St., Oneonta Bldg.
English Copyright secured.
you all the world would be dark,
low like a sweet summer breeze,
I am happy when you're by my side;
Will it always be so, answer filled him with joy;
For perhaps you can guess, the dear
you all the world would be dark,
low like a sweet summer breeze,
I am happy when you're by my side;
Will it always be so, answer filled him with joy;
For perhaps you can guess, the dear

'Yes', don't say 'No'; And with heart filled with rapture he cried:
'Girl, answered 'Yes'; And once more came these words from the boy:

CHORUS.

"What a beautiful world this would be,
If 'twas built just for you and for

What a beautiful world. s.
me, Down life's stream we'd flow, flow, flow, We'd let Cupid row, row, row, row, What a beautiful world this would be, How like Adam and Eve you and me, On this earth just we two, You'd love me, I'd love you, What a beautiful world this would be! "What a be!!"