"The Melancholy Sunbeam and the Rose"

Words by WILLIAM JEROME.

Music by JEAN SCHWARTZ.

Allegretto.

1. A sunbeam in a garden fair. Quite sad at heart one day, Fell victim to a

2. The violet might prize your love, Replied the rose with glee For I'm engaged to blushing rose, That stole his heart away

someone else Don't waste your time on me

Why

International Copyright Secured. Copyright 1904 by Shapiro, Remick & Co. All Rights Reserved.
sun-beam whis-pered words of love, And kissed a - way the dew. "Oh oth-er ros-es just as sweet, Are grow-ing by my side. "I pret-ty Rose" the sun-beam said Please let me shine for want no oth-er Rose but you. The sun-beam sad-ly sighed.

REFRAIN, con moto grazia.

"Rose pret-ty rose Ev'-ry gen-tle breeze that blows And ev'-ry flow' in cu-pids bow'r, My

The Melancholy Sunbeam etc.
Secret knows Clouds in the Sky Seem to pause and wonder why You keep me waiting Aggravating Rose, sweet Rose.

Tempo L

The Melancholy Sunbeam etc.