"I'm mighty glad I'm living and that's all."

By GEO. M. COHAN.

Moderato.

"This life's a pry" said Shakespeare, they're the truest words he spoke, Mister. The man who takes life serious is an awful laugh with me, Why you'll Slowly.

Shakespeare is a man I wish I'd met, For I've seen enough of life to under-dodge him if you see him on the street, But the man who sees the funny side of stand that it's a joke, It's a joke and no one's guess'd the answer yet. Why it's ev'-ry-thing he'll see, Is the man that ev'-ry-bod-y wants to meet. Why it's Copyright 1905, by F. A. Mills. 48 W. 29th St; N.Y.

English Copyright Secured.
all imagination If you'll only stop to think, To this all just what you make it You can manufacture joy, Or can positive conclusion you'll arrive. We find a lot of fault that's if you try, But a live and then we die, And when we die, why it's good-bye, So we disposition bright, And a corking appetite, Are two ought to all be glad that we're alive.

little things that bank rolls never buy.

I'm mighty glad & c. 4.
CHORUS: Slowly.

I've seen a lot of sunshine, I've seen a lot of rain, I've I never long for riches, I never long for fame, I known a lot of happiness, I've known a lot of pain; I've care not if posterity ignores or shouts my name; I had a dozen fortunes, A dozen times been broke, No never envy Roosevelt, Nor wish that I were he, Just matter how the winds may blow, I take it as a joke. I've what I am and who I am, I'm satisfied to be. The

I'm mighty glad &c. &c.
had a lot of worry, Of fun I've had no ends, I've made a lot of enemies, I've Pennsylvania Railroad, It isn't mine and so, I care not if the stocks go up or made a lot of friends; No matter what may happen, What down, or how they go; I'm happy and I'm healthy, No ever may befall, I only know I'm mighty glad I'm doctors need to call, And so I know I'm mighty glad I'm living and that's all. Living and that's all. Symphony.

I'm mighty glad &c. &c.