Dedicated to Sue Smith the singing flower Girl.

When The Moon Plays Peek-A-Boo With You.

ED GARDENIER.
Author of "Someone Thinks Of Someone!"

Moderato.

By FRED. FISCHER.
Writer of "If The Man In The Moon Were A Coon!"

\[ \text{Music notation} \]

When a pair gets spoon-y, moon just Honey stop your pining, cause the \[ \text{Music notation} \]

\[ \text{Music notation} \]

moon am shin-ing, From the star-lit skies a-drives them loon-y, When there's kiss-ing on the \[ \text{Music notation} \]

Copyright, 1907, by Fred. Fischer Pub Co. 1431 Broadway, New York.
International Copyright Secured.
bove,  When the moon he sees—sly,  He plays se¬cret ser¬vice, makes your out to tease us, just to spoil our game of love,

gal act ner¬vous, When he winks his moon-beam eye,

Now the me my la¬dy, down the lane so shad¬dy, There's a shad¬ows fall¬ing, hear the night owl call¬ing, Tell¬ing

me its time to woo,

rustic bench for two,

Say he'll have a

Moon be¬hind the

When The Moon do. 4.
Chorus.

moon plays peek-a-boo, love I know what to do,

Find a cozy corner for two,

There we'll bill and
For when the moon peeps through the trees don't you hug and squeeze,

Wait for a cloud then kissing's allowed, When the moon plays peck-a-boo with you. For when the