(Violinski.)

Moderato.

1. You often hear folks sing about the pale moon-light, A-
2. In days of old when Knights so bold went out to woo a bout two lovers spooning while the stars shine bright; When speaking of the night, they say it's maid-en fair, they'd do or dare, for love that's true, They real-ly nev-er knew of such a just di-vine, But you sel-dom hear them speak a-bout the bright sun-shine. Now, it thing as fear; They'd fight with all their might for those they lov'd so dear. Now, seems that moons were made for loons to sit at night and love and spoon, It some de-clare that they don't care if girls are true or on the square, But kind of makes the heart grow light and glad; But if the night is dark and dreary,

I just can't be-lieve though, that is true; For, if your sweet-heart says she'll meet you,

Love grows lone-some, cold and wear-y. It seems to make the whole world sad.
In the twi-light she will greet you, You're lone-some then the whole day through.

CHORUS.

But when the moon shines, ev'-ry-bo-dy's hap-py; When the moon shines,

Everybody's happy.
ev'ry girl and chap-pie Thro' the park go stroll-ing on a prom-e-nade; The lad-die tell-ing love-tales to the pret-ty maid. For when the moon shines, ev-ry-bo-dy knows that is the time to love and spoon, But, if you have no girl, pray tell me, What good is the moon. But when the moon.

Everybody's happy.
