JOS. E. HOWARD.

Valse Lento.

You dear old moon I'm wondering, How many nights you've Sometimes you seem a sad old moon, When I am all a-shone —— Upon a world that seemed all wrong Till lone, —— I wonder if you have a heart, That's love had found its own;

If you could always
longing for it's own;
Through ages past, your

shine old moon, Just as you shine to night;
Then all the
silver smile, Has put the world in tune, Perhaps some-

world would love and love. Would set the world aright time you'll stay and shine, Forever Lady Moon

Chorus.
Valse moderato.

If all the moons were honey-moons,
Honey-moons, Golden

If all Moons were Honeymoons, 3
Hone-y moons, If ev-ry night had sil-vry light And twas always June, May-be you would love me then,

Love me then Would you love me then? And let your heart be mine again If all moons were hone-ey-moons. If moons.

If all Moons were Honeymoons.
