Just Good Friends.

Words by M. E. Rourke.

Music by Jerome D. Kern.

Moderato.

Piano.

(KITTY) Bid me good-bye, Love is o-v-er, Ev-en the best friends must (JACK) I am in-clined to be-lieve you, Love has an odd lit-tle part, Our play is done, and neith-er one can way, He comes and goes, and no one knows how claim a broken heart by "heck" ry-thing that you say may be true, long he means to stay. And rem-em-ber love's quite an ex-pense,

May-be to day you'll be say-ing Some bod-y's teeth are like
So we will fool Mis-ter Cu-pid Who is a mak-er of pearl strife

As once, you know, a while a-go you Bid love good-bye, and you and I will told another girl

be good friends for life

(JACK) I remember I told it to you.
(KITTY) Now I know you have very good sense.

Refrain.

Love is half the song of life Then friendship is the Love is half of life And friendship is the rest And after all Friendship may be rest May be after all Friendship often

Just Good Friends.

Best no broken hearts, no tears that start, may be best no broken hearts, no tears be.

Cause our story ends. And both can be so happy we were.

Just good friends, if just good friends.

Just Good Friends.
