Wont You Let Me Build A Nest For You?

Lyric by SEYMOUR BROWN.

Music by SILVIO HEIN.

Allegretto.

Rob-in Red Breast loved a Wren which sang at dawn on the pose I am the rob-in dear and you are the wren so-

Copyright 1909 by Maurice Shapiro, Broadway & 39th St., New York.
International Copyright Secured. All Rights Reserved.
Mrs BURTON

blood within him thrill. The germ of love no life was incomplete; Now I should follow my doubt had turned this silly robin's brain. The own advice and your advices shun. The But wren to do the proper thing should treat him with dis just to please you we'll suppose that I am the wren for

GRIFFEN
dain You the o rise just like a woman fun I knew you could not be so cruel

Wont You Let etc. 4
that is where you are wrong
and treat me with disdain;
For the wren could not rethink the matter

sist the rob-in when he sang this song.
over dear, while I sing this refrain.

REFRAIN.
Allegretto.

Wont you let me build a nest for you

High up in a chest-nut tree
Where I can be all a-

Wont You Let etc. 4
lone with you and you'll be a lone with me.

The branch will sway in the summer breeze, as we cuddle close and coo.

And the birds and bees will listen while I tell my love for you.

Wont You Let etc. 4.