Hanna Cision

is a dynamic artist, former student of some of the most renowned teachers in the world. Her career has been marked by a series of successful performances and appearances around the world. She is a frequent performer at the renowned festivals, including the Verbier Festival in Switzerland, and has collaborated with some of the most distinguished musicians and ensembles around the world. Her performances are characterized by a combination of technical precision and emotional depth, making her a sought-after artist in the field of contemporary music performance.

She has recorded several albums, including "Reflections," which received critical acclaim for its innovative approach to piano music. Her compositions, often inspired by contemporary art and literature, push the boundaries of traditional piano music, blending elements of classical and avant-garde styles.

In addition to her concert career, Cision is also an active teacher and mentor, sharing her knowledge and passion for music with the next generation of pianists. She has taught at several prestigious conservatories and universities, including the Juilliard School and the Royal Academy of Music, where she has held the position of Chair of Piano.

Cision's dedication to her craft is matched only by her commitment to community service. She is an active member of the Piano Society of America and has given numerous performances to support causes close to her heart.

In summary, Cision is a pianist of exceptional talent and dedication, whose music engages audiences worldwide and continues to inspire and challenge the way we think about the possibilities of the piano as a musical instrument.
