I'd Like To Pose For You.

Lyric by VINCENT BRYAN.

Music by PAUL RUBENS.

Moderato.

There was a handsome painting man Who came from gay Par-ee,
And it
He drew the girls with wonderous art That won him great renown, Tho’ he didn’t take him long to get acquainted, He
drew the girls far better than he sketched them,
The
met some naughty models
And he painted two or three,
But they only painting he could start Was when he paint the town,
But he

Copyright MCXX by Chas. K. Harris.
Rights for Mechanical Instruments Reserved.
International Copyright Secured. were not quite as bad as they were painted, He had a way of drawing girls that would fetch them, He plied his art in such a charming way That grew too busy soon to paint at all Tho' his ev'ry day fresh girls would call to say, models vainly pleaded when they'd call.

Refrain.

I'd love to pose for you Perhaps you'd like me

I'd Love To Pose For You. 3 The Genius. too, Your charming art has won my heart I love your art its true. Just keep it entre gous There's few things I'll not do, If no onknows I'd love to pose, I'd love to pose for you. I'd you.