The Moonlight, the Rose and You

Words by
CHAS. E. BAER

Music by
JOHANN C. SCHMID

INTRODUCTION
Andante moderato

VOICE

The rose is a-sleep, she nods her head
Neath a bridal veil of dew,
And
A melody sweet the night wind sings,
A melody ever new,
The

dreaming she blushes rosy red,
Caressed by the moonlight so true,
song that the silvery moonlight brings,
The rose that is kissed by the dew;

Would you pluck the rose? Ah! no, sad would the moon grow too, I've So would I sing to you for aye, sing while the heart beats true, just

Learned, dear, to love them long ago, the moon-light, the rose and you Loving for ever and a day, the moon-light, the rose and you

REFRAIN Grandioso

Moon-light, roses, come love, the world repos-es, why should we care those years be long,

The moonlight the rose 3
You have my heart, I have your song;

Moonlight, roses, Mem'ries the fond heart closes.
Dear dreams, near dreams, The moonlight, the rose and you. moonlight, the rose and you.

The moonlight the rose 3
