THE MESSAGE OF THE HONEYMOON

Words by AL. DUBIN & H. R. CURTIS.

Music by
JOS. A. BURKE

Andante Modto

Down by a stream, where the love star gleams, Shines a Were led a-right, by its guid-ing light, Where great big hon-ey moon; well find our world of bliss; It

Copyright MCMXII by Welch & Wilsky, Phila., Pa. shines for you and it shines for me; Breezes hum a lover's From your lips I'll sip honey drips; As I slyly steal a tune. Let's go hand in hand down to honey land, Where it's kiss. I'll love with a love that is more than love, For always, always, June, dear, And the world is a this is the message, Told tonight by the good old world, Underneath the honey moon.

pale moonlight, Of the honey moon that's near.

The Message Of &c. &c. 3.
REFRAIN
Andante Expressivo

Come a-long to hon-e-y land, There I'll wait for you

Hon-e-y moon is shin-ing where we can bill and coo-o-o,

Come dear, Let me ca-ress you, Close to my heart I'll press you,

This is the mes-sage of the hon-e-y moon._moon._

The Message Of, &c...