Dear Rose Marie

Lyric by
JEAN C. HAVEZ

Music by
TED S. BARRON

Moderato

1. Oft in fancy I am with you when I'm lonely, Summer breezes, recall you dear; All the birds and bees are singing of you sweet-heart, The love-light in your eyes still hovers near. The

2. When the evening shadows fall I dream of you, dear, Joy recalling, as in a haze; And the world is brighter now I know you care, dear, I picture all your loving gentle ways. There

Published by Metropolis Music Co., 145 W. 45th St. N.Y.
Copyright MCMXIII by Ted S. Barron
International Copyright Secured
Daisies in the wildwood seem to love you,
Your life without your love, my darling,
The presence bids them nod in ecstasy;
And the world would seem a sorry place for me;

Honesty suckles jealous of your sweetness,
Love is like the blossoms in the Springtime,

Jealous of you, dear Rose Marie,
I want you so, dear Rose Marie.

Dear Rose
Refrain

Dear Rose Marie, no dainty flower, in all this world, can equal thee; in to my heart, you've brought the sunshine, be my own and mine alone, Dear Rose Marie. (Dear Rose Marie)