Allegro moderato

Brown went around to all the dances in town, round in the town all loved to dance with young Brown,

Most every night or so ______

But they all knew Miss Pearl —________

Pearl was his girl And she could always be found there with a stare, that said, "Go on if you dare," wherever Johnny used to go But you could hardly blame the girl,

Any night at all, at a dance or ball
On the floor she'd stay, dancing night and day

They were first out in the hall.
Just to keep them all away.
CHORUS

Dancing a-round, they'd be dancing a-round, Oh how he'd hold her, head on his shoulder, Oh how he'd tease, then he'd dip with his knees. He'd trot her to a corner, and he'd steal a little squeeze, while they were dancing a-round all a-round all a-round.

They were the talk of the town__ And when the band was playing that "Hes-1-ta-tion" You could hear her say-ing,

"That's some sen-sa-tion!" And the peo-ple would stay till the break of the day_
When he tho't no one saw He would hug her some more_

While they were danc-ing a-round.________ round.________
