man I know heard she has dough, He went around one night, And In the parlor, on the porch, most any place at all, Unwhen he got her on his knee Then he turned out the light. He til the neighbors used to yell, "Why don't you rent a hall? I whis-per'd, "puck-er up your lips and press them close to mine," He guess they must be mut-ty, why don't some-one call a cop? But the held her tight and kissed her And the old maid said, "That's fine, I like it" old maid said, "Don't mind the neigh-bors, don't you dare to stop, I like it"

Yum! yum! yum! There's something nice about it, Yum! yum! yum!

I couldn't live without it. Hold me closer, my little tutty frutty. Oh, no, don't go, just stay and do your duty! Yum! yum! yum!

Oh, there is something to it, Yum! yum! yum!

I like the way you do it, Nice, so nice, Do it once, do it twice, Do it again, do it again,

Yum! yum! yum! yum! yum! yum!
