In a manger lowly

Christ, our Lord, was born;

Silent lay the meadows

That first Christmas morn, silent lay the meadows, silent.

If no obbligato is used, the piece may begin here
But on high the seraphs' joyful chorus rang,
All the heavens listened, while the angels sang.

Radiant from afar.
Over hill and mountain
Never once they stayed
Till they reached the stable Where the child was laid.

Brighter yet and brighter Shone the star above,
While the heav'n-ly chorus, while the heav'nly chorus Sang its hymn of love, sang its hymn of love.
