"PAT"

Now while men marry whom they will
And women whom they do, It's quite to be expected That If she is neglected, A wife will find admirers still, And of them one or two Who'll help her pass the time

When she is blue So let me tell you some-things en-tre nous I need af-fec-tion, Oh, so much! I'm long-ing all the while For one whose kisses I'm fayest of, And only one could I ever love! To see if he is fond of me, I'll flirt a bit, indeed! It lends a charm, So where is the harm? Affection is all I need!
