City Of Dreams

Lyric by
P. G. WODEHOUSE

Allegretto con grazia

Music by LOUIS A. HIRSCH

Down in the valley where sunbeams grow Many are going there every day and stars go to rest when they're old, though some have sought it in vain,

Stands, ever covered in sunset glow
No one who ever has found the way can wonderful city of gold, ever forget it again.

Often I hoped I should see some day That Close to a river whose wavelets creep And city that others have known; It's easy to find if you splash on the silver sand; It's not very far from the know the way, But no one can find it alone.

Hills of Sleep, And they are in Fairy Land, Refrain (Slow and gracefully)

Dear golden city! Life is happy and serene.

Where lovers go when its spell they can't resist.

And how I pity all the folks who've never... been there: They'll nev-er know

All the won-der-s they have missed I'm going to stray there: I've some one now to show the way there. We'll go and stay there
