I'll Make Bubbles
(Mrs. Purcell and Girls)

Words by
EDWARD A. PAULTON

Music by SILVIO HEIN

Allegretto

Piano

If you've something on your mind
I've solved problems in a flash
And I can

Don't be patient and resigned
For a modest piece of cash

But come to me
I've a soothing rising With a beauty that's surprising; And in watching them your mind is soon at ease. If your trouble were double it would still be a bubble; Not worth a second's misery or care:

Let it float away unheeded. For it really isn't needed. Let it vanish. With a splash in the air. I'll make air.
