The Train That Leaves For Town

Words by
P. G. WODEHOUSE

Duet
(Joe and Comm)

Music by
JEAN SCHWARTZ

Lively

Piano

\[ \text{The farmer leads a happy life. At five A. M. he} \]
\[ \text{The farmer's is a lively lot: All sorts of interests}\]

\[ \text{(Joe)} \]

\[ \text{wakes his wife.} \]
\[ \text{Then hand in hand they each morning to the}\]

\[ \text{go and dig. Or as a treat they kill the pig.}\]
\[ \text{field he'll go To watch the dandelions grow.}\]

Copyright MCMXIX by T. B. Harms, Co., N. Y.
T. B. H. Co. 97-4 All Rights Reserved International Copyright Secured
They love the cow just like a son: They
And when he's tired of that, he'll lie And Take the turkey for a run: Then pausing from their watch the snails go racing by: And then he takes his labors. They sit around and knock the neighbors.

Vit-tles And sits up on a fence and whittles.
Refrain

Country life's a happy life;
Country life's a happy life,

That's what I've heard, Have you?
Cheer-y and gay and bright,

Some say chickens grow upon one like the dickens:
For New Yorkers know the joy of feeding porkers:

Roosters too have a few boosters. It's such Farming really is quite charming. Life out

T. B. H. Co. 97-4 The Train etc fun to let the sun there, so some declare, Bake you un-til you're brown: when you're down: But to me quite the nice.

-est thing in the country is the train that leaves for town. leaves for town.