Who’ll Dry Your Tears

Words by JOE YOUNG &
SAM. M. LEWIS

Music by HARRY AKST

Moderato con espressione

Can you forget all that There comes a time when we

I’ve been to you. And take me right out of your heart; look back and grieve. And think of each word said in haste;

Can you forget all the joys that we knew;
May be it’s
There comes a time when we hate to believe,
That all our

Copyright 1921 by Irving Berlin, 1587 B’way, New York, C.
International Copyright Secured
All Rights Reserved
Who'll Dry Your Tears etc 3

easy to part, To-day you may laugh, To-day you may sing

Who knows what to-morrow may bring?

Who'll dry your tears when you cry (little girl?) When you are sad.

Chorus Slowly with expression

Who'll make you glad, Will some one cherish what once belonged to learns how to sigh, When some-one it loves says good-bye.

me

Will you be happy, As I hope you'll be; Sometimes a friend says "Good-bye" (little girl) When there's a cloud up in the sky.

In after years when your smile disappears, Who'll dry your tears when you cry?