Sung by Oscar Shaw

Weeping Willow Tree

(Laddie and Chorus)

Words by HOWARD DIETZ

Music by JEROME KERN

Molto moderato  Poco allegretto

Oh! Weeping Willow Tree.

Oh! Weep no more for me,

For never more you'll see me blue.

Copyright MCMXXIV by T.B.Harms Co., N.Y.

International Copyright Secured

T.B.H.Co.272-8 ALL RIGHTS RESERVED Including public performance for profit
Oh sing a song of joy

There's nothing to annoy
This happy-hearted boy, she's true.

I know just where I stand
I'm sure I'll win her poco a poco cresc.

hand Our tryst to night will be Neath the willow dim.

So Weeping Willow
dim.

Tree. Oh! Weep no more for me.

For never more you'll see me blue.
Oh Weeping Willow Tree

Oh never more will be Blue, sad or sorry be, she's true Where the poco mosso moon with its brow of gold Light the well that's so quaint and

T.B.H.Co. 272-8
old. While the rest of the world goes by she and I gently will sigh "Love will not die" Hearts a drift in a love lagoon Where the eaves-dropping stars will soon be agossiping of our love up above and whispering to the moon— How I long for my love to-night— 'Neath the tree framed in stars so bright— And the sweet serenade I'll play— With a heart full of love content—

vey Sing a song of joy There's nothing to an-vey a plink a plunk plank

Plink a plink a plunk, plunk plink a plink a plunk, plunk

T.B.H.Co. 272-8
moon—How I long for my love to-night—'Neath the tree framed in stars so bright—And the sweet serenade I'll play—With a heart full of love content—Sing a song of joy There's nothing to answer

Plink a plink a plunk, plunk plink a plink a plunk, plunk plink a plink a plunk, plunk...
-noy

This happy hearted boy she's plink a plink a plunk, plunk

true

So Weeping Willow

plink a plink a plunk, plunk

Oh weep no more for me

plink a plink a plunk, plunk, plunk

T B H Co. 272-8
For never more you'll see me blue

plink a plink a plunk, plunk plink a plink a plunk, plunk Ah!

My love is

Ah!

true

L.H.

T.B.H. Co. 272-8