Organ music. The program will also include works by Schumann, Brahms and Bach.

Sunday, March 4, 2:30 pm
Language: English
Location: Main Auditorium
Concerts with music by J.S. Bach

The Road to Bach

Upright concerts on the Fritts Organ

AT ASU

The 20th Anniversary of the Fritts Organ

To Celebrate

Organ concert at ASU. The program will also include works by Schumann, Brahms and Bach.

Sunday, March 4, 2:30 pm
Language: English
Location: Main Auditorium
Concerts with music by J.S. Bach

The Road to Bach

Upright concerts on the Fritts Organ

******

The ASU Organ series is a yearly event and features outstanding performances on many different instruments. Many of you will remember this outstanding performance on concert with music by J.S. Bach.

The Road to Bach

Upright concerts on the Fritts Organ

******

The ASU Organ series is a yearly event and features outstanding performances on concert with music by J.S. Bach.

The Road to Bach

Upright concerts on the Fritts Organ

******

The ASU Organ series is a yearly event and features outstanding performances on concert with music by J.S. Bach.

The Road to Bach

Upright concerts on the Fritts Organ

******

The ASU Organ series is a yearly event and features outstanding performances on concert with music by J.S. Bach.

The Road to Bach

Upright concerts on the Fritts Organ

******

The ASU Organ series is a yearly event and features outstanding performances on concert with music by J.S. Bach.

The Road to Bach

Upright concerts on the Fritts Organ

******
PERFORMER BIOS

ROBERT BATES

Robert Bates is professor of organ at the Moores School of Music at the University of California, Los Angeles. His work on the organ has been recognized with awards from the American Guild of Organists, the Church Music Association of America, and the College Organists Coalition. He is the author of numerous articles and papers on organ literature and performance. In 2019, he was awarded the Distinguished Service Award by the University of California. Bates has also served as the director of the UCLA Organ Program and continues to be active in the organ profession.

JOHANN SEBASTIAN BACH (1685-1750)

Bach was a German composer and organist who lived during the Baroque period. He is considered one of the most important composers of all time, and his music has had a lasting impact on the world of classical music. Bach's compositions include works for organ, orchestra, and solo instruments, and his music is still performed and studied today.

WOLFGANG AMADEUS MOZART (1756-1791)

Mozart was an Austrian composer who lived during the Classical period. He is considered one of the greatest composers of all time, and his music has had a lasting impact on the world of classical music. Mozart's compositions include works for orchestra, opera, chamber music, and piano sonatas, and his music is still performed and studied today.

DAVID DAHL

David Dahl is a composer and organist who lives in Los Angeles, California. He is the director of the organ program at the University of California, Los Angeles. Dahl's music has been performed by many of the leading ensembles and performers in the world, and he is considered one of the most important composers and performers of our time.

PAMELA DECKER

Pamela Decker is a composer and organist who lives in Los Angeles, California. She is the director of the organ program at the University of California, Los Angeles. Decker's music has been performed by many of the leading ensembles and performers in the world, and she is considered one of the most important composers and performers of our time.

ANNA SCHICK

Anna Schick is a composer and organist who lives in Los Angeles, California. She is the director of the organ program at the University of California, Los Angeles. Schick's music has been performed by many of the leading ensembles and performers in the world, and she is considered one of the most important composers and performers of our time.

KIMBERLY MARRSHALL

Kimberly Marshall is an associate professor of music and director of the organ program at the University of California, Los Angeles. She is also the director of the UCLA Chamber Choir and the UCLA Wind Ensemble. Marshall has performed with many of the leading ensembles and performers in the world, and she is considered one of the most important composers and performers of our time.