Cupid and I.
Waltz Song.

Words by
HARRY B. SMITH.

Music by VICTOR HERBERT.

Tempo di Valse.

Voix.

Piano.

Più lento.

1. Cupid once found me a-dreaming.
2. I found young Cupid asleeping.

Lulled by the soft Summer-breeze.
Captured his arrow and bow.

Where golden sunlight was,
Though he explored me with

Streaming, weeping, Through the deep shade of the trees.

Copyright, 1897, by Edward Schuberth & Co.
He gave no heed to my sighing,
Come! for my bow's safe returning
What could I know of his art?
Ah! how swiftly his arrow came flying,
boy,
"Never more shalt thou know love's sad yearning,
True was his aim at my heart.
Ah! love,
Thou shalt know only its joy!"
Ah! love,
Più lento.

Happy was the day for me,
Now I know thee well,
Happy was the day for me,
Free now is my heart.
From thy pleasant folly I am free,

Ay, gaily I can laugh at thee.

Vain is thy spell ever, Ay love, love,

My slave thou art ever, Ay love,

Smiling I can go my way, Broken is thy chain:

Smiling I can go my way, Life is joy to me.

Cupid is my ruler no longer, I'm

Cupid, if you seek to ensnare me, I