Respectfully dedicated to Ed. F. Bitner.

Somebody's Waiting For Me.

Words by ANDREW B. STERLING.
Music by HARRY VON TILZER.

Andante espressivo.

It was in a Concert Garden, where the fun was at its height. All were "You have got a sweetheart, somewhere among them softly said, "Is she joyful and the wine began to flow; From a table in the corner then a handsome jack pray introduce us do; If you'll come with me he answered, I will young man slowly rose, And said "It's growing late boys, I must go," Twas a show her to you, boys, The only sweetheart that I ever knew. Then he Copyright MCMII by Leo Feist, 134 W. 37th St. New York.

English Copyright and Performing Rights Secured and Reserved.
burst of laugh-ter rang out, as he led them to a cot-tage, point-ed stood there, hat in hand, Why it's through the win-dow pane. Where a

...on-ly twelve o'clock, then some one cried. And an-gray-haired wom-an sat, with bowed-down head. "It's my oth-er said sit down jack, why the fun has just com-menced. But he moth-er, she's my sweet-heart, it was her I meant to-night. So you slow-ly shook his head as he re-plied.

see I told the truth, boys, when I said:

Somebody's waiting for me.
CHORUS.

Some-body's wait-ing for me, Some-one who loves me I know,

Some-body's wonder-ing where I can be, and what can be keep-ing me so,

Some-body's heart is sad, Watching so anx-i-ous-ly, There's a light shining bright, In the window to-night For there's some-body wait-ing for me.